

Splice recognized by Inc. 5000 as one of the fastest growing companies in America.

August 22, 2008

SAN JOSE, Calif. – August 22, 2008 Splice Communications Inc., a Network Solutions Provider was recognized by Inc. 5000 as one of its fastest growing companies in America. Measured against 5000 privately held companies, Splice ranked number 147 overall, number 5 in telecommunications nationwide and in the top 10 fastest growing businesses within the Silicon Valley.

Andy Coan, CEO and President of Splice Communications had this to say about his company's accomplishment; "Splice is honored to have been recognized by Inc. 5000 which has served for over 27 years as the benchmark for the most innovative, dynamic, and successful companies in the nation. We realize the impact of being included in this ranking which includes influential alumni such as Bill Gates of Microsoft, Larry Ellison of Oracle, and others who have traveled this path before Splice. The professionalism and expertise of every individual within our organization is the reason for our success. Splice continues to focus on simplifying the lives of our customers and delivering more than just bandwidth."

The Inc. 5000 ranked Splice against measurements based on percentage of revenue growth from 2004 through 2007, in addition to a minimum revenue requirement of $200,000 in 2004 and $2,000,000 in 2007. Rankings can be viewed at www.inc.com.

About Splice Communications, Inc.

Splice is a Network Service Provider (NSP) dedicated to delivering customized data solutions by leveraging the most robust network portfolio in the industry. Our business is based on the belief that every client, every employee and every action counts. Splice provides value through technical sales consulting, service delivery and customer care. With years of industry experience we provide insight into what is possible. Customers with mission critical applications require a company where long term viability is the focus. With Splice, customers rely on the fact that they are engaging with a provider whose financial strength is demonstrated through zero debt, substantial growth, high retention and outstanding customer satisfaction. At Splice, intelligent solutions encompass more than just network services. Splice, know your options.

For more information, visit www.splicetelecom.com.

Media Contact - Cheryl Bowman

936.672.2495 Cheryl.bowman@splicetelecom.com