Our Company

Founded in 2002, Splice Communications is a NSP (Network Solutions Provider) dedicated to delivering customized solutions by leveraging the most robust network portfolio in the industry. Our business is based on the belief that every client, every employee and every action counts. Splice provides value through technical sales consulting, on-time service delivery, and a passion for outstanding customer care.

"We needed a company that would go to work for us, providing us with customized solutions. Splice did the leg work and successfully designed the best priced solution for our nationwide network."

— Garry Sikes, Director of IT, Microsoft

The Splice Experience: Options. Intelligence. Choice.

Splice provides innovative network designs customized to each unique customer environment. With combined industry experience of over 100 years, we offer insight into what is possible. Customers experience increased efficiency by using Splice as their single source provider. We simplify our customer's lives as their single source provider, enabling direct connections to a variety of carriers. Splice customers are able to choose which option best fits their requirements. All this is accomplished with a single MSA, a single customer support center, and a single invoice. Choose Splice for all your carrier options.

"The circuits are working flawlessly. We couldn't be happier!"

— Alex Ignacio, San Francisco 49ers
